Language Focus – Pronunciation of the Simple Past

A few weeks ago we looked at the simple past (November 8) and its use in the weekly news stories.

The pronunciation of the regular form of the simple past –ed, varies depending on the sound that comes right before it. The table below shows the three different pronunciations of –ed:

If the word ends in these bolded sounds, the –ed will make a /t/ sound	If the word ends in these bolded sounds, the –ed will make a /d/ sound	If the word ends in these bolded sounds, the –ed will make an /ɪd/ sound
help ed (sounds like helpt) kiss ed kick ed miff ed wash ed watch ed	plann ed (sounds like pland) follow ed sav ed pleas ed bang ed	seat ed (sounds like seatid) strand ed

Look at the stems that have the past form from the three news stories. Try to place the words in the correct category on the chart. Use the examples to help you. Answers are in the appendix.

News Story 1

- ...children died in care over the past...

Then listen again to the news stories – can you hear the difference?

Transcripts of Weekly News Stories

	NOVEMBER 29TH WEEKLY NEWS STORIES	TIME
Introduction	Hi, this is Rosa Marchitelli. You're listening to Learning English with CBC for November 29th.	0:00
Story 1	Alberta's opposition parties continue to criticize the provincial government about the number of children dying while they are in foster care. A report by the Edmonton Journal and Calgary Herald says 145 Alberta children died in care over the past fourteen years while the government only reported 56 deaths. Some people say there is too much secrecy about the deaths and the government needs to release more information about what really happens in the child welfare system. The government says the rules are there to protect the privacy of children and families. Human Services Minister Dave Hancock says he wants a round table to talk about how much the public should know about what happens in the system.	0:09
Story 2	One insurance company says drivers in Calgary and Edmonton are some of the worst in the country when it comes to the number of car accidents. Allstate Insurance looked at the number of accidents in 50 cities across the country. Calgary was #41 out of the 50 communities in the frequency of car collisions. Edmonton drivers were even worse - in 44th place. But Allstate insurance says its data shows driving IS improving. The company says collisions across Alberta are actually down by 7.4 per cent. And the place with the least collisions in the country? That's Medicine Hat.	01:22
Story 3	SELFIE, the popular word used to describe a picture taken of yourself, usually with a smartphone, is the word of the year says the Oxford Dictionary. Research from the famous dictionary says usage of the word 'selfie' has increased by an incredible 17,000 % in the past year. One of the most famous selfies was taken by Pope Francis posing with teenagers at the Vatican earlier this year. The picture went viral as it was shared many times on Twitter.	02:23
